

NatSIP Regional Working Day

Equipping the SI sector for the future

This event is available on three dates in different venues:

Wednesday 20 September 2017	Friends House, Euston Road, London NW1 2BJ
Wednesday 18 October 2017	Novotel York Centre, Fishergate, York YO10 4FD
Wednesday 8 November 2017	Beeches Conference Centre, 76 Selly Oak Road, Bournville, Birmingham B30 1LS

This NatSIP seminar event is for managers and other members of support services, specialist settings, VCS, agencies and other organisations working together to secure better outcomes for children and young people with sensory impairment.

Key changes to policy, funding and commissioning practice have an impact on how services are being commissioned and will operate in the future. We encourage colleagues working across educational settings to attend and explore how to understand what commissioners are looking for, how best to position and market your service and what schools need to know to help equip CYP with SI.

During the day:

- Brian Lamb (NatSIP Associate, author of NatSIP's Future of the Sector report) and Michelle Allison (Director of SEND and Commissioning, Seashell Trust, formerly Head of SEND for North Yorkshire County Council) will talk about the implications from the Future of the Sector report, service reviews and what drives commissioners
- Steve Rose (NatSIP Associate, Lead for the Sensory Learning Hub, formerly Head of Children's Services, Sense) will explore the potential of the NatSIP Sensory Learning Hub
- Lindsey Rousseau (NatSIP Facilitator) will give an update about the NatSIP work programme and resources 2017-18

This will be a seminar day with opportunity for delegate discussion.

Cost: The cost of the day is: £50/delegate, reduced to £25/delegate for NatSIP-affiliated organisations.

More information and booking forms can be found on the NatSIP website at <https://www.natsip.org.uk>

The York event is supported by the Seashell Trust
