Why you should attend:

- You will gain up-to-the-minute insights into current developments, with an opportunity to question the speakers
- Conference presentations are short and succinct, providing a 'value for money' event covering a wide range of current issues of national relevance and interest in the sensory areas
- This event provides a unique opportunity to network with colleagues. It's the largest annual gathering of Heads and Team Leaders of Services in the sensory /multi-sensory area. Heads and Leaders in Specialist SI Schools are also welcome

Is this conference for you?

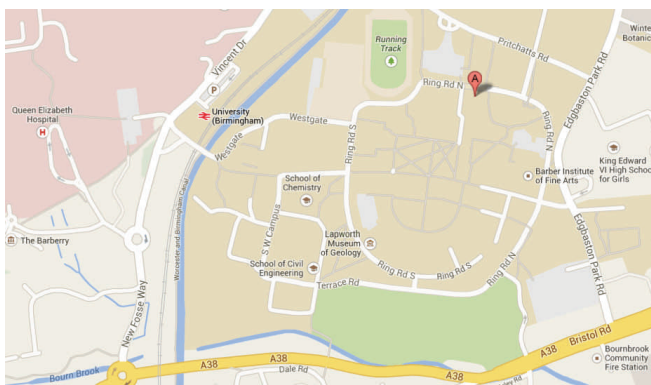

- This conference is designed to meet the needs of Heads and Team Leaders of Support Services in the fields of Hearing, Multi-Sensory and Vision Impairment. We also welcome representatives from specialist schools. This event is also open to other professionals and organisations with a specific interest in these issues.

Further information about how to book and early bird offers will be circulated in due course.
